What is document and data control? Why is there a need to control documents? How do you implement a document and data control system? How do you update document changes?

How do you develop a document control procedure?

How do you attract, satisfy, and preserve loyal library clientele? These were some of the many questions addressed to during the two 2-day seminar-workshops the library held as part of its professional development program for personnel with the support of Process Review and Improvement Office (PRIO) of ITC. The seminars were held at the Ortigas Seminar Room and the European Documentation and Research Center (EDRC) multi-purpose room.

The first seminar, Document and Data Control, was conducted by Ms. Patricia B. Antonio, PRIO's Senior Analyst, last October 8-9 (1st batch) and October 15-16 (2nd batch).

She re-iterated the need for an efficient and effective document and data (information) control system in the different library units and sections. The participants designed Document Change Request Form for the reviewer/approving officer and developed their procedures on document data control. Each group presented what they designed and developed.

The second seminar was "A Customer is Always... The Customer" which was held last October 21-22 (1st batch) and November 6-7 (2nd batch). This was conducted by Ms. Janet O. Chua, PRIO's Process Analyst. She gave pointers on how to be Reliable, to give Assurance to customers for good, if not better, service, to care for the Tangibles in the place of service, on how to Empathize and be Responsive (RATER) to library customers. During the workshop the participants identified their existing services, their internal and external customers, and the possible ways they could show being RATER to them. They were also asked to make a list of complaints and discussed how to deal with them.

With these seminars it is hoped that the library personnel will be more able to maintain an effective document control flow and be able to deliver quality service to the library users.

Cybernook for Graduate Students

Effective October 19, the Cybernook is for the exclusive use of the graduate students every Saturday. The 35 computers at the Cybernook will augment the 15 computers available for them at the Graduate Corner on the 3rd floor and the 10 computers at the Periodicals Section.

IMS Extends Office Hours

In answer to the increasing demand for the Instructional Media Services, its office hour on Saturday was extended up to 6:30 P.M. from its usual 5:00 P.M. closing time. This is now possible when the three technicians were transferred from the Physical Facilities Office.

Skills Development for Library Support Staff

Jocelyn Ladad, Head of the EDRC and ASRC, and Wilfredo Frias, assistant librarian of the Information-Reference Section attended the seminar on “Skills Development for Library Support Staff” held at Villa Jireh Hotel Resort, Uyong, Labrador, Pangasinan on October 16 to 18 with the Association of Special Libraries of the Philippines (ASLP) as sponsor. Topics discussed were the library support staff’s importance, duties and functions, work values and attitudes, client services, customer satisfaction, and mechanical preparation of library materials. Among the expert speakers were Dr. Josephine Sison, Dean, Institute of Library Science–UP and Dr. Cenon Udami, President, Virtues Foundation. A trip to the Hundred Islands courtesy of the Governor of Pangasinan, the Honorable Victor E. Agbayani, capped the 3-day seminar.

Bridging Pedagogy with Technology

Cresencia Valenzuela, Public Program Coordinator and Media Specialist, with Bro. Miguel Rapatan, FSC, the Director of the Center for Educational Multimedia (CREM) and Mrs. Nenita Habulan, CREM’s associate director, conducted a 2-day training workshop on “Bridging Pedagogy with Technology”. The workshop emphasized on synergy between technology and pedagogy and provided hands-on experiences with instructional presentations done in PowerPoint (PPT), the Internet, and online learning systems, and in organizing, managing, and evaluating web-based instructional resources.

C. Valenzuela discussed briefly the introduction of the first teaching machine in education, the history and development of the PowerPoint (PPT) program, the basic steps in the learning process, and how it could help encourage students to think critically. She gave practical tips on designing and producing, and presenting PPT slides effectively. For the hands on, the participants were tasked to evaluate existing presentations with the use of PPT rubrics.

The program was initially given on October 21 to 22 for 40 respondents. This was repeated on October 24 and 25 to accommodate the rest of the 73 people who answered the invitation. The participants were mostly faculty from all levels with some deans and principals, subject coordinators, heads of Educational Media and Information Centers from as far as Tuguegarao, Benguet, Bacolod, Iloilo, Cebu, Davao, and Cotabato.

Knowledge Management and Metadata

Fe Angela Verzosa, Head of the Archives, and Ana Maria Fresnido, Head of Technical Services, were two of the 95 participants of OCLC training course on “Knowledge Management and Metadata II: Libraries in Rapid Transition” on October 16 to 18. This is the second part of the course organized by the Philippine Association of Academic Research Libraries (PAARL) and University of the Philippines (UP) Diliman Libraries through the initiative of Ms. Verzosa as Head of the National Committee on Libraries and Information Services (NCLIS) under NCCA as one of the sponsors. Dr. Hwa Wei Lee, Dean Emeritus of the Ohio University Libraries, conducted the training that was held at the International Conference Center, DLSU-College of St. Benilde.

The Library Personnel @ the seminar

The personnel listen attentively as Ms. Patricia Antonio of PRIO-ITC explains how to update document changes

Perla T. Garcia, the Library Director, Noel Aquino, Jun Gallo, Melton Jo, and Jocelyn Ladlad discuss ways to tackle complaints at the depository counter.

Marita Valerio, Ulyses Balatbat, George Bundalian, Josephine Juan, Cynthia Lim, and Yolanda Odsinada study circulation forms for revision.

Avelino Dancalan emphasizes on his group's reasons for changing a document.

Amelia Maula, Melton Jo, and Rey Matias design document change request form of the director's office.

Lorie Esguerra points at her group's procedure on document and data control.

Fely Caparas explains the flow of her group's document.

Seminar on Vibrant Health

Antonio Meneses, assistant to the director, Felicidad Caparas and Rolando Masindo, assistant librarians at the Archives and Circulation Section respectively, attended the "Seminar on Vibrant Health" sponsored by the Human Development and Resource Office on October 19. The speaker, Ms. Mariel Francisco, the Director of Center for Creative Health and Arts (CHACRA), demonstrated the proper exercises to relieve tensions and stresses. She stressed the need for proper diet for good health as shown in the Filipino Pyramid Food Guide which was developed by Sanirose Orbeta and the Food and Nutrition Research Institute. The pyramid food guide recommends to 1) drink a lot of water or take clear broth, 2) eat most rice, corn, noodles, root crops, cereals, and bread, 3) eat more vegetables and fruits, 4) eat some fish, poultry, dry beans, nuts, eggs, lean meats, and low fat dairy, and 5) eat little fats, oils, sugar, and salt for daily eating choices.

Effective Business Writing

The HRDO sponsored another seminar on October 29 entitled "Effective Business Writing". This was attended Rolando Masindo, and Felicidad Caparas, assistant librarians of the Circulation Section and the Archives respectively and two library clerks, Lorelei Esguerra of the Circulation Section and Josephine Juan of the Filipiniana Section. They learned what clichés and other mistakes to avoid in writing memorandum and other business writings from the speaker, Ms. Marie Zelig Tan, Senior Consultant of Integrated Marketing Association.

Quotes on books...

Books are the quietest and most constant of friends; they are the most accessible and wisest of counsellors, and the most patient of teachers.
